We transform clever ideas and research discoveries into successful innovations to benefit society, the economy and future generations.

We conduct research across a wide range of areas. We invest considerable resources in areas where we believe we can make the biggest difference, such as:

• Solar power (photovoltaics). We hold the world record for the conversion efficiency of a silicon solar cell, and we are home to the world’s fastest solar powered car.

• Clean drinking water. We created membrane filtration technology to filter water that is now used in taps around the world.

• The bionic eye. We successfully trialled a bionic eye system that is a world first in neural stimulation and clarity of vision.

• HIV/AIDS. Since diagnosing Australia’s first case of HIV, we have been involved in the development of every existing antiretroviral HIV drug.

• The world’s largest computer. Using silicon, we are building the world’s largest supercomputer.

‘UNSW Business School is highly recognised in the world and greatly respected by local employers. The Business School has been amazing in assisting international students to engage in local communities, and in offering lots of extra-curricular activities ideal for career progression. Through participating in the Business School’s leadership program, I was able to build up a great network and was actually referred by someone I met there for my current role at Westpac Group.’

The wide array of scientific research conducted in BABS is represented by the active research projects in the School, some of which are suitable for Graduate Diploma students. See biotech.unsw.edu.au/research-projects

Students interested in one of these research areas or projects should apply for this Biotechnology and Biomolecular Sciences stream. Students who successfully complete the Graduate Diploma (Research) with a sufficiently high-weighted average mark (WAM) are qualified to continue further in their research careers by undertaking postgraduate studies by research (Master or PhD level).

Entry requirements
Applicants are required to have a recognised three-year full-time Bachelor degree with a minimum average mark greater than 65, specialising in:

Applicants should have completed a three year full-time equivalent Bachelor of Science, with a major in Physics, with a minimum WAM in the range 55-65%. Students with a major in a closely related area, e.g. Astrophysics, may also be eligible for admission.

It is essential that applicants identify an appropriate academic supervisor and obtain their agreement prior to submitting an application for the Graduate Diploma (Research) in Physics. Agreement of a supervisor is not a guarantee of admission but is subject to the discretion of the supervisor. Further information on research projects offered in the School, some of which are suitable for Graduate Diploma students, can be found at physics.unsw.edu.au.

UNSW CANBERRA POSTGRADUATE COURSEWORK PROGRAMS

Courses in Master by Coursework programs at UNSW are delivered through distance (online) and/or intensive delivery mode. International applicants may undertake these programs as offshore international students. Offshore international students are not eligible for an Australian student visa.

Distance Mode: Courses are available in the distance (online) delivery mode. There is no need for you to be present on the campus to complete the course. You are required to download the information, complete the work and upload your assessments or complete the online tests as directed in the Course Outline. All coursework and forums are asynchronous, there is no need for you to be online at any specific point in time. If necessary, you can log in at the start of the session, download all the course material and only log back in again to submit assignments and complete any course tests. If you are able to be connected more regularly, you can participate in the online forums.

Intensive Delivery Mode (IDM): If you choose to undertake IDM courses, you will attend the UNSW Canberra campus for a one-week full-time period of face-to-face instruction. The IDM periods are usually at the start of each session so you may be able to package and complete a number of IDMs in succession. On completion of this on-campus component, you would complete the rest of the coursework as detailed in the Course Outline. There is no need to remain at UNSW Canberra nor to be online at any specific point. After the IDM intensive week, you simply download the information and continue through the session as if you were in the Distance Mode. Throughout the session you may, if you wish and are available, participate in online forums with other students. International students are required to obtain visas' visas to Australia in order to attend IDM courses.

POSTGRADUATE RESEARCH
- HOW TO APPLY

You can apply for a research degree and a scholarship within the same application.

1 Determine your eligibility and research area
In addition to the online application process, a number of Schools and Faculties have specific admission requirements. Please read this information carefully prior to finding a supervisor or submitting your online application. You need to match your area of interest to one of our Faculties and satisfy minimum eligibility requirements for your proposed postgraduate research program. Visit research.unsw.edu.au/how-apply-enrol-research-degree and see Step 1 for detailed information. You will also need to investigate if your research interest is a good fit for UNSW so take some time to look at each Faculty’s research programs. unsw.edu.au/faculties

2 Find a supervisor and develop a research description
Most Schools require students to contact their potential supervisor and secure their agreement to supervise you before you submit a formal application for admission. Your Supervisor must be located in the School you are applying to. Once you have a supervisor, a one page description of the proposed research should be written. Arts and Social Sciences and Built Environment applicants need to submit an Expression of Interest form (EOI) to the Faculty, and will submit their successful EOI outcome as proof of contact. Visit research.unsw.edu.au/how-apply-enrol-research-degree and refer to Step 2 for instructions.

3 Prepare your supporting documents
A number of supporting documents are required to be submitted as part of the application process. They must be in English or include a certified English translation. Scanned copies can be accepted. Check with your Faculty or School for specific requirements and also refer to Step 3 on our website research.unsw.edu.au/how-apply-enrol-research-degree and a list of any outstanding documents. You can log in to UNSW Apply Online to track the progress of your application.

4 Submit your application and apply for a scholarship
Submit your application and supporting documents at UNSW Apply Online. Click ‘Register now’ and follow the prompts to set up a password, and begin your application. Please submit only one application. You can apply for UNSW scholarships within your research application.

5 Track your application
After submitting your application, you will be emailed a confirmation receipt with your UNSW Student ID number. You can track the progress of your research application or submit any outstanding documents. Applications for admission take around six to eight weeks to process. If you have applied for a scholarship, the scholarship outcome will be released separately. For scholarship offer release dates please see research.unsw.edu.au/key-dates.

6 Accepting an offer
Successful applicants will be emailed an offer of admission. Students with a full offer (unconditional offer) can accept, defer or decline online through myUNSW. my.unsw.edu.au. More information is required you may be sent a conditional offer with details of outstanding documents to provide.

7 Enrol online

Fees are charged based on the year of commencement

For example, if you start in Semester 2 (July) 2017, the fees for the first semester will be calculated at 2017 rates. Your second semester will be calculated at 2018 rates. If you are required to complete a course again, you will be charged at the rate applicable to the year you re-take the course.

Coursework program fees

A coursework Masters program will require 48 units of credit (UOC) per year, a Graduate Diploma will require 36 or 48 UOC per year, while a Graduate Certificate requires 18 or 24 UOC per semester. Most courses (subjects) are 6 UOC.

A typical postgraduate program will include courses from within the Faculty offering the degree. However, if you do choose courses from outside your Faculty, they will be charged at the rate set by that Faculty. As an example, the course Environmental Impact Assessment will be calculated using the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences rate, which is A$655 per UOC in 2017.

Research program fees

The tuition fees listed for research programs are for a standard full-time year of study, which is 48 UOC per year or 24 UOC per semester.

Some research degrees combine coursework with research. In this case, your research tuition fee covers the cost of those courses and you are not required to pay an additional fee.

Graduate diplomas by research are not classified as research degrees and fees are calculated using the value of individual courses undertaken.

For more information about the UNSW fees policy, including refund of fees and overpayments, visit: student.unsw.edu.au/fees-policy-international-students

Living costs

Living costs vary depending on each student’s specific requirements. We estimate a single international student will need minimum A$20,000 per year to cover general living expenses.

This doesn’t include the costs of large non-essential items like electrical equipment or a car.

In addition, you will need at least A$2,000 when you arrive in Sydney to cover initial expenses such as a rental bond payment (security deposit), electricity, gas and telephone connection fees and basic furniture and household items.

For more information, visit: www.studyinaustralia.gov.au/global/live-in-australia/living-costs

Other study-related costs

Some programs and courses have costs, which are additional to the tuition fees, for expenses like laboratory kits, equipment and field trips. Textbooks are not considered compulsory, but we recommend budgeting around A$1,100 per year for books.

An estimate of your total costs (tuition and other study-related costs) will be shown on your Confirmation of Enrolment Form (CoE) that will be issued on acceptance of an offer of admission to UNSW.

Overseas student health cover

If you are in Australia on a student visa you will need to pay for health insurance through the Overseas Student Health Cover (OSHC) scheme and maintain insurance for the full duration of your visa.

All international students must be covered by health insurance from the date they arrive in Australia until the date they depart, regardless of when they start or complete their program. It is your responsibility to ensure your health insurance policy matches your arrival and departure dates.

The only exception is for students from Belgium, Norway and Sweden who are covered by CSSN or K-Marknadsbolaget. These students will need to provide proof of official health insurance cover from their home government provider.

There are five registered providers of OSHC

Medibank (UNSW’s preferred health cover provider), BUPA Australia Health, Worldcare, NIB OSHC and Australian Health Management.

Medibank OSHC will pay benefits towards your medical and hospital treatment, medically necessary ambulance transport and most prescription medicines. Just be aware that there may be some exclusions for pre-existing conditions and you may have to serve a waiting period to receive certain services.

Certain services are not covered by Medibank’s policies. These include optical, physiotherapy, dental and certain pharmaceuticals. If you want to be covered for these expenses, you will need to take out additional insurance.

US financial aid

We are authorised by the US Department of Education to administer Federal Direct Loans for eligible US students studying at UNSW. If you are eligible for this support, the UNSW Financial Aid Office will be able to help you with your application.

For more, visit: international.unsw.edu.au/for-us-students

International student loans

If you are from Canada, Sweden, Norway, Denmark or UK and have applied for a student loan or a grant from your home country, we can help you certify your enrolment at UNSW.

Please send the Certification Form to financialaid@unsw.edu.au
